

Fiscal Year 2018 Annual Report Orphaned Well Program August 31, 2018

Purpose

The Colorado Oil and Gas Conservation Commission (COGCC), a division within the Department of Natural Resources, prepared this report to document work performed through COGCC's Orphaned Well Program (OWP) during the State's Fiscal Year 2018 (or "FY18"), covering the period from July 1, 2017 through June 30, 2018. Governor Hickenlooper signed Executive Order D2018-12 on July 18, 2018, to improve the environment, public health, and safety of Coloradans by directing the COGCC to plug, remediate, and reclaim orphaned wells and sites and prevent future orphaned wells and sites.

As required by the Executive Order, the COGCC "shall annually report progress on plugging, remediation, and reclamation of Orphaned Wells and Orphaned Sites" for the preceding fiscal year (in this instance FY18) no later than September 1 of each year. This FY18 Annual Report summarizes OWP project management and financial metrics, and it has been posted online for public access at <http://cogcc.state.co.us/documents/library/Technical/Orphan/OrphanedWellProgramFY2018AnnualReport20180831.pdf>. The information contained in this report will also be presented to the Governor and General Assembly Committees of Reference with oversight authority over the COGCC.

Orphan Well Program Background

For a variety of reasons, oil and gas operators may discontinue operation and maintenance of oil and gas facilities, effectively "orphaning" the facilities. For example, the COGCC may have revoked the operator's right to operate through an enforcement action. Alternatively, an operator may have also voluntarily stopped operating facilities due to its financial distress. Finally, in some instances, the COGCC is unable to identify the responsible party for "historic" oil and gas facilities. The OWP identifies, prioritizes, and addresses these oil and gas wells, locations, and production facilities statewide, which without intervention may impair a surface owner's farming or ranching activity or other use of the property, harm wildlife, or present a safety hazard to the public.

The legislature first authorized a budget appropriation to plug and abandon historic oil and gas wells with no available financial assurance in the 1990 Legislative Session. Each year, funding through financial surety claims ("Bond Claims") and the Plugging and Reclaiming Orphan Wells (PROW) appropriation line item in the State Budget's "Long Bill" enables the COGCC to plug wells; remove production equipment and debris; investigate and remediate soil and groundwater impacts; install safety equipment such as fences, signs, and locks or tags; and reclaim well pads, remote production sites, and access roads.

When the COGCC claims an operator's bond, that money is reserved for the sole purpose of plugging and/or reclaiming the Orphaned Well or the Orphaned Site to which it pertains. Levy and penalty revenues are the primary sources of funding for the Oil and Gas Conservation and Environmental Response Fund, which is used for multiple purposes including the PROW appropriation. The levy is paid by operators on the sales value of oil and gas production.

The General Assembly increased the PROW appropriation line item from $445,000 in FY18 to $5,011,000 in FY19. This budget increase will result in a significant increase in the volume of OWP work in FY19, but it had no impact on the OWP's results in FY18.

FY18 Orphaned Well Program Metrics

Table 1 shows a summary of the type of work by work unit, the county where the work was performed, the project name, the task name, and the task status. "In Progress" tasks may have commenced in a prior fiscal year and have work extending into the next fiscal year(s). Small projects may contain one or more tasks for a single well, while large projects may consist of multiple tasks at many orphaned sites throughout the state.

During FY18, OWP staff, contractors, and two operators performed field work at oil and gas locations belonging to 27 separate projects, including 12 historic projects and 15 bond claims. Project work was subdivided into 85 discrete plugging, equipment removal, reclamation, or environmental tasks at 61 Orphaned Sites. Additionally, 6 tasks were related to field-wide or statewide work on multiple Orphaned Sites.

Table 2 summarizes historical financial information, FY18 expenditures, and available sureties remaining at the end of FY18 for OWP Bond Claim projects that had FY18 expenditures. Bonds are exhausted before any expenditures are authorized from the PROW appropriation line item for all Bond Claim projects. Table 3 summarizes expenditures for all active FY18 Bond Claim and historic OWP projects.

Contractor payments from the program reached an all-time program high of $834,775 in FY18, of which $419,772 was expended from Bond Claims and $415,003 was expended from the PROW appropriation line item. Work performed by federal agencies on federal leases and work performed at two Orphaned Sites by operators are not included in the annual expenditure totals above.

FY18 Annual Report
Orphaned Well Program

Of the total program effort for FY18, approximately 77 percent of the work (by dollars) was related to well work (including well plugging) and flowline abandonment; 11 percent was related to environmental sampling, laboratory analysis, and remediation; 10 percent was related to surface reclamation; and 2 percent involved other field work, including equipment removal.

Prioritized Site List from August 1, 2018

Table 4 displays the OWP's August 1, 2018 Site List, showing a total of 263 orphaned wells and 365 associated orphaned sites. This list groups orphaned sites by COGCC Location ID into low, medium, and high priority categories based on multiple risk factors, including population density and urbanization; environmental factors; years in service; active spills; stormwater issues; noxious weeds; wildlife, livestock, or vegetation impacts; surface equipment; bradenhead pressure; mechanical integrity test data; and any documented history of venting or leaking. Executive Order D2018-12 requires the COGCC to update this prioritized list of orphaned wells and sites by July 1 of each year beginning in 2019.
